Dear Members of the Oakville Gymnastics Club,
Thank you for inviting parents of participating athletes to serve on the Oakville Gymnastics Club Board of Directors. I am writing to formally express my interest in serving another term as a Board Member.
Before I begin, I should be completely transparent: I know very little about the skills our children train so passionately to master. In fact, I sometimes get dizzy just watching them. While I may not bring technical gymnastics expertise to the Board, I do bring a strong commitment to community service, organizational leadership, parent engagement, and youth development.

To help you get to know me, here are five things that define who I am and what I would bring to the Board:
1. Dedicated Parent and Long-Term Supporter of Youth Athletics
I am the proud father of three active children. Two of my children began their gymnastics journeys as recreational athletes, and it quickly became clear that the sport would become a significant part of their lives. Today, my son Marc trains with Coach Nistor, while my daughter competes with Milton Springers. Like many parents, I have spent countless hours in gyms, at competitions, and supporting my children's athletic pursuits. These experiences have given me a deep appreciation for the role that a strong, well-governed club plays in helping young athletes thrive.

2. Experienced Community Volunteer and School Council Leader
For more years than I care to count, I have served on Parent School Councils at both the elementary and secondary school levels. During that time, I have worked alongside dedicated principals, educators, and parent volunteers to support initiatives that enhanced student experiences and strengthened school communities. These roles have developed my understanding of governance, financial oversight, collaboration, and the importance of representing stakeholder and parent voices.

3. Educator and Mentor
Professionally, I am an IB Economics and Business Management teacher with the Dufferin-Peel Catholic District School Board. Throughout my career, I have worked closely with students, families, administrators, and community partners to create meaningful learning opportunities. I also support students in fulfilling their Creativity, Activity, Service (CAS) requirements and regularly supervise student-led initiatives. These experiences have strengthened my leadership, communication, strategic planning, and organizational skills.

4. Active Volunteer in Youth Programs
Community involvement has always been an important part of my family's life. Over the years, I have coached and volunteered in a variety of activities, including BMX racing, travel baseball, and curling. These experiences have given me a tremendous appreciation for the volunteers, coaches, administrators, and parents who work behind the scenes to create positive experiences for young people.
5. A Strong Believer in Engagement and Service
Most importantly, I believe in leading by example. Whether as a parent, teacher, coach, or volunteer, I have always tried to demonstrate the value of civic engagement and giving back. I believe strong organizations are built by individuals who contribute their time, skills, and energy in support of a shared vision.

While I may not be able to explain the difference between a triple pike and an L-sit hold, I do bring a proven record of leadership, volunteerism, financial stewardship, and community engagement.
It would be an honour to continue contributing to the Club's success and supporting an organization that serves as a model of excellence within the gymnastics community.
Together, we can continue building a positive, inclusive, and supportive environment that athletes and families are proud to call their own.
Sincerely,
Rocco Bellusci

I am pleased to put my name forward for a position on the OGC Board. As the parent of a Level 9 WAG gymnast at OGC, I have seen firsthand the commitment of the athletes, coaches, families, and staff who make the club such an important part of our community. Professionally, I am a health economist with more than 20 years of experience in the pharmaceutical sector, including senior management roles. My experience includes strategic planning, budget and resource management, stakeholder engagement, and working collaboratively to make decisions in complex environments. I believe these skills would allow me to make a meaningful contribution to the Board and to OGC's continued growth and sustainability. Sport has always been important to me personally as well. I participated in soccer, track and field, and rugby growing up, and my wife and I have continued to make sport and physical activity an important part of our children's lives. Our daughter, Jamila, is a Level 9 WAG gymnast at OGC, while our 17-year-old son, Jeilani, has participated in competitive soccer, cross-country, and rock climbing. I would welcome the opportunity to give back to a club that has become an important part of our family's life. I hope to bring both my professional experience and my perspective as an OGC parent to the Board, working collaboratively to support good governance, responsible decision-making, and a positive and sustainable future for the club and its athletes.

I am putting my name forward for a position on the Board of Directors (Board) of the Oakville Gymnastics Club (OGC) because I am interested in giving back to an outstanding organization that serves a community I am part of in a sport that I have a strong affiliation with. I believe I would bring a valuable combination of legal and governance expertise, not-for-profit board experience, and the perspective of someone with a lifelong connection to sport to the Board. I am also the parent of a child currently participating in OGC.

Professionally, I am Vice President, Pension Strategy & Services, at WISE Trust Pension Plan, and I also oversee the organization's Privacy Office. I am a lawyer with extensive experience in pension, benefits, privacy, corporate governance, and employment law. Before joining WISE Trust, I was part of the leadership team that built the Medicus Pension Plan, leading a broad portfolio that included legal, compliance, policy, strategy and public affairs. Earlier in my career, I had a senior legal role at one of Canada's largest banks and practised law at a leading law firm. I hold a JD /MBA from the University of Toronto.

Volunteering in the not-for-profit sector is important to me. I currently serve on the Ontario Regional Council of the Association of Canadian Pension Management (ACPM) and have volunteered with ACPM for more than a decade. I am looking for another volunteer opportunity outside of my current pension industry volunteer work. I bring a wealth of experience from past service on a number of not-for-profit and community boards and committees, including the Ontario Turtle Trauma Centre, the BridgeWay Family Centre, the U of T Triathlon Club, the Quest for Gold Committee for Dive Ontario, and Eva's Place.

In addition, I understand sport organizations from the perspective of both athlete and coach. I was a recreational gymnast in my early years and then a high performance springboard and platform diver with the Etobicoke Diving Club (EDC) for over 10 years. Later I became a triathlete and represented Canada at the World Masters Triathlon Championships and the World Masters Swimming Championships. I also coached diving and swimming for many years and ran EDC's Learn to Dive and Summer Camp programs. These experiences gave me first-hand appreciation for the many elements that need to come together to create an excellent sport organization. My interest in the Oakville Gymnastics Club is also personal. My five-year-old daughter currently participates in the recreational program at OGC.

I would welcome the opportunity to contribute my governance, legal, strategic and leadership experience to the Board while bringing a genuine passion for community sport. I am particularly interested in helping OGC develop its next five-year strategic plan and generally in contributing to the continued success of OGC.

Reasons for Running and Relevant Experience

Hello, my name is Tamara Vahn, and I'm putting my name forward for another term on the Oakville Gymnastics Club Board of Directors, representing REC. My reasons for running remain simple: I love to see our community flourish, and I know how much OGC contributes to people of all ages through sport and movement.

Our family has been involved with OGC for close to nine years. My daughter and I have participated in recreational gymnastics, while my son trained in competitive MAG. I've also used the Club's facilities and the expertise of its coaches as a professional athlete. That experience across different programs is part of why I'm proud to represent REC. I believe recreational gymnastics matters enormously, both as an introduction to movement and as a place for people to keep learning and challenging themselves. And, as a Board member, I know my responsibility is to the Club as a whole.

My background is a bit of a mix, and I think that's useful here. I spent seven years as a director in strategic management consulting, where I worked on everything from strategy to the customer experience, and I've spent almost twenty years running businesses and coaching in the fitness industry. Competing as a professional athlete gives me another view of how much the right environment matters. I'm comfortable looking at the bigger picture, but I also want to know: how will this work in real life, for the people walking through our doors? That's a perspective I enjoy bringing to our Board discussions.

I still see so much potential for OGC in our community, especially through REC. I'd love to help more people discover gymnastics at any age, build on the programs we've already worked to develop, and explore opportunities we may not have yet fully considered. I've really enjoyed contributing to OGC's Board over the years, and I still get excited about finding ways to turn great ideas into something real.

We've been an OGC family for ten years; our son is in tumbling and our daughter is in WAG. I'd like to work with the board and staff on the club's business strategy, bringing an investor's eye so OGC stays financially healthy for our athletes and remains a pillar of the Oakville community. That starts with a multi-year strategic plan we can use to weigh major spending decisions. I'd help the board look at every program and initiative through three questions: does it advance our mission, do the numbers work, and is there a realistic plan to run it? Regular check-ins would let us adjust course as we go.

I've been on both sides of United Way's Social Enterprise Fund, in separate roles: helping Toronto charities, including Furniture Bank and Sistering, put together business plans that won funding, and evaluating dozens of other applicants' plans. That work was featured in the Toronto Star. I've also done due diligence on technology investments for venture capital firms.

As a senior executive at tech startups and a board member, I've managed budgets and risk, written bylaws and conflict-of-interest policies, and learned how a board supports management without stepping into its job.

Looking forward to getting involved.

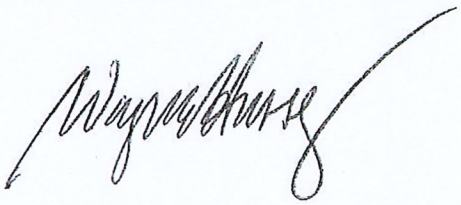

Best,

Cecil

My name is Wayne Hussey, and I would like to run for a Community Member position on the OGC Board of Directors.
As the former CEO of the Oakville Gymnastics Club and a long time Oakville resident, I believe I could contribute to the continued success of the club. Having led the club for 23 years, I am uniquely positioned to know the inner workings of the gymnastics club, the important role that OGC plays in the community, and the strong relationship that OGC enjoys with the Town of Oakville. I have sat on the boards of the Oakville Sports Council, Halton Early Childhood Education, and the Oakville Sports Hall of Fame, of which I was a founding member.
In my retirement I regularly visit OGC with my grandchildren.
